Brief Mention.

Edward Leverty, a mason builder, died in Bridgeport yesterday, aged forty. Lewis' ice house in Birmingham was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. Mrs. M. S. Munsill has presented a $3, 000 organ to the South Park Methodist church, Hartford.

At Bridgeport's city meeting a tax of 214 mills on the dollar was laid. The tax last year was 24½ mills. J. H. Strong, for many years a Glastonbury stage driver, is very ill and not expected to recover. Although the Connecticut river has been practically free from ice for three or four days, traffic has not begun yet.

John Brown and sister, who have be visiting relatives in this city, returned to their home in Hazleton, Pa., yesterday. Walter Miller of Middlefield has in the last two weeks killed forty-six skunks and seven minks in the woods near that place. A largely attended and very enthusiastic meeting of the Chrysanthemum club

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Public Attention Called to an Official

The particular attention of physicians heads of families, hack owners and undertakers is called to the rules and regulations of the board of health, as published in an other column, in reference to contagious diseases. To-night there will be a grand gathering of Red Men, in their wigwam, (Atheneum), to celebrate the 400th anniversary of St. Tammany's day. This is the first entertainment given by Hammonassett tribe this year, and the committee have made arrangements to give an exceedingly interesting entertainment. The hall will undoubtedly be well filled with Red Men and their friends, judging from the program which has been gotten up. Those that attend will see something entirely different from what the tribe presented in the past

The Redemption.

To-morrow evening the much talked of oratorio of "The Redemption" will be given. No local musical enterprise of late has attracted as much attention. Every one seems to be going, either to the eve-ning performance, or the rehearsal in the afternoon. With Mrs. Jennie-Patrick afternoon. With Mrs. Jennie-Patrick Walker, Miss Winant, Mr. Myron W. Whitney, Mr. Clark and Mr. Lamson in the east, New Haven will be treated to an array of solo talent not often gathered together here. Mrs. Walker is recognized by many of the best judges, as standing at the head of oratorio soprano in this coun-try. She has sung at nearly all of the im-portant festivals in the east during the Past few years, notably at Boston and Worcester. She recently carried off the honors at the production of the Messiah honors at the production of the Messiah in New York, singing, according to the Tribune and Times critics, "I Knew that My Redeemer Liveth" almost faultlessly.

The last rehersal of the chorus occurs tonight in the United church, promptly at 8. No visitors will be admitted. Stage tickets without which no member will be able to get into the Hyperion will be issued to the chorus to-night. The libretto, to be procured at all of the music stores will be found almost necessary to an understanding and enjeyment of the oratorio.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. Southly Meeting Last Evening-The By-Laws to be Amended at the Next

mmerce was held in the rooms of the chamber last evening, President J. D. Dewell in the chair. William H. Cooper and C. E. Bruce were elected to membership in the chamber upon recommendation of F. Seward and T. Attwater Barnes. It was also reported that the resolution on silver had been transmitted to the presi cents; ONE WEEK, 15 cents; SINGLE dent of the United States, speaker of the mittee and to the Connecticut delegates in congress. Acknowledgment of the re-ceipt of same had been made by the speaker of the house and Congressmen Si-mends and Russell. The communication of E. T. Merwin, W. H. Eaton, E. M. of E. T. Merwin, W. H. Eaton, E. M. Reed, resigning from membership in the body, were read, accepted and referred to the executive committee with power to act. A communication from J. A. Price, chairman of the national board of trade, requesting the co-operation of the chamber in a memorial to be presented to congress asking for the establishment of a bureau of statistical information in reference to the census in Washington, similar to the bureau of agriculture, and asking that the census be taken every ten years as now, but that it be taken by trained officials. The chamber voted to do as desired in the matter.

Notice was then given, in accordan with the by-laws, that several importan amendments to the by-laws would b brought up for action at the next monthly meeting of the chamber, which would also be the annual meeting. The president then appointed the following members a nominating committee of five to report at the annual meeting. The names of suitable officers to serve during the ensuing year: Messrs. Max Adler, J. B. Andrews, year: Messis Max Adler, J. B. Andrews F. H. Sperry, George M. Grant, George F. Holoomb. The president was also in-structed, upon motion of Mr. Easterbrook, to appoint a committee of three to revise by-laws and to report at the nex

Reference was also made to the receipt of a communication from the Trades council asking for a joint debate on the subject of the municipal ownership of the water werks but no action was taken

MR. WHITNEY'S WITHDRAWAL

The following letter was received by Al lerman Prince last Monday: New Haven, Conn., Feb. 21. Dear sir-Allow me to thank you and through you the other aldermen who paid me the compliment of declining to accept my resignation of the office of commission-er of the board of public works.

While I appreciate the indorsement given me, there were to my mind serious reasons for my withdrawal from the beard, and as those reasons still prevail I feel constrained to beg that you will ask the aldermen at heir next meeting to reconsider their a tion and to elect my successor.

In offering my resignation I did not act hastily, but decided the matter only after careful consideration, and I wish it distinctly understood that I was not actuated by a feeling of dislike towards any mem-ber of the board, but rather by the convic-tion that the policy of the present majori-ty will be so detrimental to the efficient and economical administration of the deand economical administration of the de-partment, and consequently adverse to the best interests of the city, that I am abso-lutely determined not to be in any way re-sponsible for the results which are certain to follow its adoption, and which I should be powerless to prevent.

I refer, first, to the plan for dividing the of street, equally between the commissioners, each commissioner to have his share or appointments; the power to discharge to be taken away from the superintendent and to vest solely in the board, or, what is worse, within his own apportionment, in each complications. ch commissioner.

The second, and by far the most serior change that is conten change that is contemplated, is to alter the form of contract now in use. This form form of contract now in use. This form was adopted many years ago by a very competent committee, after mature deliberation, as the one best suited to insure good work. It has resulted in a high standard of work, particularly in sewer construction and has proved so satisfactory that it has been adopted by a number of other cities. It gives to the city engineer the control of the execution of important public works after the contracts are made and the power to decide all minor questions that may arise while the work is in pro-

WITH INCREASED FACILITIES. The Congregational Church of Wallingford Remodeled and Enlarged at a Cost of $15,000—Appropriate Dedicatory Exercises—A Sermon by Dr. Behrands.
Wallingford, Feb. 25.—The dedicatio services in recognition of the enlargemen of the Congregational church were held this evening and the increased seating capacity of the edifice was severely taxed in spite of the weather. It is more than a year since the work of remodeling began and now that it is done, the result is one to be proud of. An addition of 30 feet has been built on to the rear which increases the seating capacity by about 300, making a total of over a thousand. The organ now stands in a loft back of the pulpit with roomy quarters for the choir. The parlors and rooms for Sunday school

The parlors and rooms for Sunday school and other purposes in the basement present a charming and homelike appearance. In fact the whole appearance of the church, from top to bottom, is artistic, and an attractive place for worship, and with few superior in the state. About $15,000 has been expended in the work.

This evening was the first time the congregation have seen what has been done and the expressions of satisfaction were unanimous. The exercises were of an extremely interesting nature. Rev. F. E. Marble delivered the invocation and Rev. David Stone read the opening selection David Stone read the opening selection from the scriptures. Rev. Charles H. Dickinson, the pastor, gave a brief historical outline of the 216 years of the church's

A group of thirty-eight families, he said, first came to Wallingford from New Haven and came with the same purpose with which their brethren thirty-two year earlier came to New Haven, namely, to found a free theocracy.

Here the puritan character was developed to its ideal degree. And the records of the town and church are free from many scandals which were characteristic of so many colonies along the shores of New England. He sketched the work and career of each pastorate of the church.
The sermon was delivered by Rev.
A. J. F. Behrends of Brooklyn. He livered a masterly discourse on the subject of "Christ's Atonement," and held his aulience in wrapt attention.

It gives me, he said, genuine and great delight to be permitted to be with you in this hour of your rejoicing.

Continuing, he said the pre-eminent message of Christianity to the world is not the display of a pompous ritual, for the world had that before Christ was born. Christianity is not a religious of the letter but a tiahity is not a religion of the letter, but a religion of the spirit. religion of the spirit.

Nor is the pre-eminent message morality.

There is a primitive gospel, and upon dissection of the gospels we find its finger marks everywhere.

This message of Christianity to the world is Christ's death. Do we have an intelligent conception what relation his death has to our redemption? I have come to feel that there is more to be found out of Paul than all the dogmatic theologicians together. I would refer you to the eighth chapter to the epistles of the

Here Paul states the ultimate, and in iew of Christ's death that the fulfillment of the law might be in us. It is the end in view which lends dignity or glory to the event. Christ's death means nothing without this end in view. Without this means nothing when you say he died because he loved us. Love may be sentimental and meaningless. Penalty does not satisfy justice. You enact laws that they may be obeyed, but justice is only satisfied when there is obedience.

Why could not this requirement of the law be fulfilled in us without this sacrafice on Christia part on Christ's part. There may be in us the wish to be holy but the achievement is in none of us. In these days one hears so much about evolution. It is quite interesting to see how popular old ideas with a new dress on do become. Evolution is really the old doc-trine of original sin. The occasion of the Christ came into this world naturally representative relations with He came in the likeness of sin-justice of God knows no other satisfaction than that sin has been overcome in the blessed Christ. The most marvellous thing of all is the spotless character of Jesus, and he was spotless character of Jesus, and ne was tempted with no abstract temptations. What a splendid victory was that gained

Mass., to-day William Lloyd, who is alleged to be wanted in New York for the murder of a companion in a saloon last month. Who is Responsible? Why is one of our city's most urgen needs apparently ignored and neglected by our authorities? The want of a kind and judicious matron at our police station has long been recognized as a most pressing ecessity by all who have thoughtfully considered the subject, and after very earnest effort to secure the appointment of such a person, an appropriation was made for the purpose and a matron selected. But instead of having her established at the station house and constantly ready for duty, it was considered sufficient to summon her (two or three times only) for the searching of women arrested for theft, and the poor unfortunates who have been seized by the stern arm of the law, some needlessly, some through the sins of others, many for the first time and while still quite young, have been left wholly without a woman's care or protection, often exposed to the most degrading and hardening influences which quench the last spark of hope and destroy all self-

who is responsible for this state of things? We naturally answer "the authorities who failed to carry out the designs of those who had secured the matron's apthose who had secured the matron's appointment," but is not a grave responsibility resting upon every one of us if we see a greivous wrong being done and possively submit! Will not every thoughtful person seriously consider whether there is an individual effort for which he is responsible in additional to account the meady except sible in order to secure the speedy accomplishment of this most pressing reform?

Senator Mead, rep., seconded the motion. Senator Pierce, dem., of the Fourth, said that no committee on appropriations had been appointed to which they could be referred. Senator Clark—Such a committee has Senator Clark—Such a committee has been appointed in the house, and from several things I have heard here in the past few days I was led to think that the chairman of these committees had already been selected. from the Twenty-first had the floor I intended to make a motion that we take a recess until 2 o'clock, and I make it now.

At this juncture of the proceedings the doorkeeper introduced Mr. Brainard, secretary of Morgan G. Bulkeley, who said that he brought a communication from his excellency Governor Bulkeley and that he did not come as Mr. Brainard, but as secretary of Governor Bulkeley. He then laid the communication on the clerk's deak.

NOMINATION OF STATE OFFICERS BY THE GOVERNOR. Senator Pierce, dem., said after Mr. Brainard had retired: In conformity with previous action it is under stood that this is not received by the clerk. The communication was that recommending the appointment of Charles A. Elliott of Clinton as state's orison director, William O. Seymour of Bridgeport to be railroad commissioner, and Edwin Hoyt of New Canaan as a mem-ber of the board of control of the agricul-

WAS TIRED OF FOOLING TIME AWAY. Senator Pierce again moved to take a ecess but afterwards withdrew it at the desire of Senator Clark, who objected to a recess, saying: That he came to Hartford to do business and wanted to do it and satisfy his constituents, and n et fool away his time in taking a recess every few minutes.

After further discussion by Senators Seymour, dem., Shumway, rep., Mead, rep., Senator Thayer, dem., of the Tenth, moved that Senator Clark's motion be amended by striking out the portion relating to the referring of the matter to the ommittee on appropriations.

HAULED OVER THE COALS. Here again Senator Mead, rep., of the welfth, hauled the democrats over the coals for treating the house as they had done in refusing to take up these bills and pass them, and thus make due provision for the various state institutions.

SENATOR CLEVELAND SPEAKS HIS MIND. Senator Cleveland, dem., of the First, followed with a fifteen minute argument in which he, as usual, ably defended the constitution as construed by the senate, and said that he should not favor the doing of any public business until the state officers had been declared elected. Senator Clark—This matter has taken somewhat of a broad scope and has gone once more into the question concerning the election of state officers. You go into any little town and if 100 votes are cast it takes fifty-one, a majority over all, and that is our constitution; it takes a majori-ty over all to elect, and no one has received such a majority, and I don't think any state officers were elected. AGAIN THE SAME OLD DEBATE.

Senator Clark-I think I know what he question is and I am only replying to the points taken by the majority on the question of state officers. Senator Holden, dem.—I must object to this motion, as there are no committees to refer these bills to and such a motion would serer these bills to and such a motion would be of no use.

Senator Mesad, rep., thought the minor-ity had a right to know what business there was before the senate, while Senator Carvan, rep., thought they might be re-ferred to a committee to be raised.

Senator Seymour dem — I must say Senator Seymour, dem.—I must say that to-day I most heartily endorse the statements of the senator from the First. It has been stated to-day that the senate has not done anything since the first day of the session. This is not so, as the records will show. On the first day we did our duty in swearing in the democratic state officers, and to-day our duty is to stand firm, as we have done so far, and seat those officers. I hope that this mo-seat those officers. I hope that this mo-tion will not prevail and that no business will be taken up at present until the ques-tion of state officers has been settled. T MUST BE MORRIS OR MERWIN SAID HE. Senator Holden, dem.—The people in this state want either Governor Morris or General Merwin for governor, but none want Mr. Bulkeley, who they did not vote for as occupying that high position. We represent 35,000 more people than the minority, and this majority we should lookout for, and for their interests in this not questioned by the minority, and if the house continues to postpone this question, they keep out of office one of two men to whom it rightfully belongs, and keeping in that office a man who has no right which this election was made, was a repub-lican act. I want this matter settled, whether the senate is wrong or not. SHOULD GO TO THE SUPREME COURT. Senator Seymour, rep.-I don't know to what the senator of the committee referswas a member of the committee on can rass of votes in this senate, and I offered a minority report. The majority, however, were under any circumstance bound to declare the democratic state officers elected. Every democrat was here with his prejudged opinion on which argument would have been of no avail. I would willingly give my time to average this a willingly give my time to argue this, a legal and constitutional question, before any unprejudiced body, but this body be-ing prejudice should not judge. The mat-ter should be referred to the supreme court

SENATOR FOX OF NEW HAVEN PUTS HIS FOOT

Senator Fox, dem .- As long as I sit in his senate I shall not do one bit of joint business until this question is settled. Governor Hill of New York has the same as said that Morgan G. Bulkeley is a usurfer, and that Governor Morris is the only governor of this state. A PERTINENT INQUERY.

Senator Mead, rep.—How are we to ever esolutions from the house regarding setlements which they refuse to act on, so osition made by the house to the senate, proposing that the matter be referred to four judges of the supreme court, and added: I believe this was a fair proposition, ed: I believe this was a rair proposition, and it was not-accepted by the opposition, who want all or nothing.

Senator Pierce—I move we now adjourn until to-morrow at 1 o'clock, which motion was carried, this adjournment evidently being on the advice of Attorney Hammersly who whispered into Senator Pierce's ear just at this time.

This body met at 11 o'clock, and after a few minor petetions had been received and t was voted to fix March 19 as the latest day for receiving new business Speaker

It was very noticable in the house while the seats were being assigned, how many Life Underwriters Have a Jolly

At the first annual meeting and banque of the Connecticut Life Underwriter's as sociation, held in Hartford this week, A. T. Richards of Hartford was elected presi dent, H. A. Tyler, Hartford, first vice president, and L. W. Moody, New Haven, second vice president. Mr. Moody wa chosen one of the delegates to the national convention. A fine dinner was served, During the festivities Colt's band played One of the jolliest of speeches was mad by Rev. J. H. Twitchell, who is one of th nost felicitous after-dinner speakers Connecticat has got.

Incidentally he touched upon the silver question and remarked that Bob Ingersion was not so much to be feared as the dolla that was worth less than 100 cents. Colo-nel Jacob L. Greene, president of the Con-necticut Mutual Life Insurance company, read a very able paper on life insurance. He was followed by Charles H. Clark, who responded for "the press" in a pleasan vein. The next speaker was the Hon Lewis Sperry, who responded to the toast "The Legal Profession." Colonel C. M Ransom of Boston, then spoke, and he was followed by the last speaker of the even-ing, John G. North of New Haven.

It was another red letter day at Neely & Co.'s yesterday and great interest prevailed among the ladies. What was it al about? Why, it was the inauguration of a new goods, the said new goods being displayed, each pattern separately on view settle this question, if the majority refuse to and to the best advantage. This was, as do anything? On the table now lay several stated in the neat circular, the "First view of early arrivals in spring dress novelties no purchases delivered until close of exhibition," The new customer received a reyal welcome. The display was up stairs and the central portion of the upper floor was devoted to it. FIRE IN DANBURY. The Office of the New England Medical Monthly Bestroyed-The Fire Caused by an Explosion of Oil-Several Narrow Escapes.

ublication office of the New England Medical Monthly in Delay street at 4:30 this afternoon and before it was extinguished the building was nearly burned to the ground. The flames started from the explosion of an oil tank, used to feed the engine. Engineer Tully was approaching the tank when an explosion occurred and was knocked down. He was able to arise and reached the open air when he rolled on the ground and extinguished the fire in his clothing. The burning oil flooded the building and the employes in the upper story, some of whom were girls, sought egress by the windows, from which they jumped. Four cylinder presses besides the rest of the office fixpresses besides the rest of the office fix-tures were destroyed. Thirty thousand copies of the March issue of the magazine, all ready for binding, were burned and several thousand copies of "The Prescrip-tion" another medical publication. A barn adjoining and a borse were also barn adjoining and a horse were also burned. The loss will be $8,000 and falls on Dr. William C. Wile, editor of the case and think the attitude of Governor Hill is a god-send to them. Starch grows sticky—Common powders have a vulgar glare. Pozzoni's is the only complexion powder fit for use. f24 26t

UNDERSTAND THE SITUATION. Governor Hill's Silly Discourtes Taken Advantage of. DANBURY, Feb. 25 .- The attitude of lovernor Hill of New York toward Governor Bulkelev has some local significance and the horse thieves in this section of the state are taking advantage of the situation This morning William Thompson of Wes Wooster street missed a valuable mare, top carriage, harness, etc., from his barn. The police traced the thief to Brewsters, in New York state, which is only nine miles west of here, and had the local authorities arrest the theif this morning. On account of the attitude of Governor Hill, the thief will go scot free.

The light fingered gentry of this section are watching the outcome of the present
